

Shuangqing Peng is a director in Evaluation and Research Centre for Toxicology, Institute of Disease Control and Prevention, Academy of Military Medical Sciences. He received his DVM in 1983, M.S. in 1986, and was awarded the Ph.D. in Pharmacology in 1993. He worked as a postdoc fellow in Michigan State University from 1999 to 2002. He has over 30 years experiences in toxicology and pharmacology research. His research has focused on pre-clinical toxicology study in compliance with GLP, toxicological alternative methods, chemical risk assessment. He has published over 170 research papers in scientific journals and has served on numerous committees such as Chinese Society of Toxicology, Chinese Society of Environmental Mutagen, and a reviewer for IND application in CFDA. He was recognized by the State Council of China as an Outstanding Scientist in 2002, and won the IUTOX/SOT AstraZeneca Travel fellowship from the American Society of Toxicology in 2006. More recently, Dr Shuangqing Peng is leading a number of national key programs on applying alternatives in the risk assessment of new chemical entities, food addictive, and environmental pollutants.